

Back

threaded alchemy
Dolly Diaper!
www.threadedalchemy.com

Cut on fold. There is no seam allowance included.

You can use 2 layers of whatever materials you like. I like cotton flannels and cotton wovens for this pattern.

Standard metal snaps or touchtape (velcro) is all you need to close. Whichever you choose, I suggest a full row of either to maximize fit on different sized dolls.

There is no seam allowance so you must add one if you are going to turn and topstitch. If you do not want to cut on folded material you can print out 2 of these and tape together in the middle.

This will fit everything from Build-a-Bear to American Girl and everything in between. It has been tested on the virtual country of stuffies and dolls that live in my house :). To be certain though, try the pattern on your dolly first.

This pattern is for personal use only.
Copyright © 2013 Threaded Alchemy

Front